Partner Event:

ON BEHALF OF ALL THE TEAM, WELCOME TO INTERMODAL EUROPE 2018.

For over four decades, Intermodal Europe has brought the global container shipping industry together to do business, see new trends and innovation, gain market insight and plan for the future. The 2018 edition once again provides this key industry business platform in Europe.

The 2018 event welcomes the industry's leading names. The exhibitors at Intermodal Europe 2018 will display a wide range of products, services, innovation and technology – making it the perfect opportunity to meet both new and existing customers, suppliers and partners.

All of our conference sessions will host a variety of market leading experts who will discuss the key topics, trends and technologies within the industry today. This year's programme will feature a dedicated 2-day Smart Shipping & Logistics Forum. This high-level, dedicated forum will cover both strategy and innovation and will showcase exciting technologies. The Smart Shipping & Logistics Forum will include sessions on: Smart Ports & Automated Terminals; Digitization of the Global Supply Chain; Blockchain Technology; Digitized Freight Rates; Container Optimization and Platform Collaboration; The Internet of Things; AI and Telematics. In addition to this, we will also host a wide range of additional forums – please find more information on all of these within this Event Guide.

We always welcome feedback, so that we can continue to develop the event in line with your objectives and expectations. Please come and join us on our Intermodal stand – E30 – to give us your feedback, discuss the 2019 events and join us for a drink.

We would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your continued support and to wish you a very successful and enjoyable few days here this week.

Kind regards,

Sophie Ahmed

DAY ONE | Tuesday 6 November

THEATRE 1

10:30 – 11:45

Worldwide Overview of the Container Shipping Market

A wide-ranging discussion on key issues impacting the market in 2018 and beyond. Topics discussed will include the current state of the worldwide economy; projected market conditions going forward; trade wars; tariffs; trade routes along the Belt and Road Initiative; the ongoing supply-demand imbalance; intermodal finance; evolving carrier alliances and the adoption of new technologies to create greater transparency in the supply chain and improve carrier performance and shipper collaboration.

11:50 – 12:15

Liner Shipping in 2019: the slow way to recovery

Alphaliner's Shipping Analyst and Editor for North Europe will give an update on the outlook for the next year.

12:20 – 12:45

Global Market Update

Empowering shippers and others in negotiations by using benchmarking services. Exploring 22 years of continuous data on global trade at the country x country x (3,000) commodity level and on the detailed deployment of container ships.

12:55 – 13:20

A New Procurement Approach to Enable Synchromodality

In the last 2 years, P&G have changed their procurement approach. For the same trade lane, they now ask for offers on slow, normal, and fast shipments. This has allowed them to use intermodal solutions on lanes where it was considered impossible.

DAY ONE | Tuesday 6 November

SMART SHIPPING AND LOGISTICS FORUM

10:30 – 13:00

Part I: Smart Ports and Terminals Forum

A focused discussion on key issues regarding creating and maintaining smart connected ports and terminals. This forum will discuss automation and simulation; will assess the key role of data and will discuss what are the key performance measures to focus on.

13:50 – 15:30

Part II: Digitization of the Global Supply Chain

A focused session on the digitization of the global supply chain. Topics include: blockchain technology; cybersecurity; cryptocurrencies; adding value and digitization in logistics. How is the global supply chain being transformed to create greater traceability, compliance, profitability and stakeholder management?

15:50 – 17:00

Part III: Container Optimisation and Platform Collaboration

The cost of repositioning empty containers is still high and the management of empty containers within the logistics function is still a huge effort. This forum brings together the market leaders in this sector to give you an insight into how to save costs, fuel, and effort through optimising your empty containers.

CONFERENCE OVERVIEW

stand E70

DAY TWO | Wednesday 7 November

10:30 – 11:50

Outside the Box: the shipping container repurposed

The shipping container revolutionised the way in which we transport cargo across the world. No longer just a trade solution, containers are now being increasingly used in many innovative ways beyond traditional shipping including: accommodation, storage solutions, workspaces, schools, retail parks, swimming pools and sporting stadiums. This forum will bring together an experienced panel to discuss the repurposed container; from design and modification to cost and feasibility, providing case study examples of projects. Discover how the shipping container is reinventing construction.

12:00 – 13:15

SELIIS Forum: solutions for enhancing reliability in inland chains

An open forum focused on facilitating the next generation of collaborative transportation chains with a discussion on the role of new technologies and the benefits for shippers, freight forwarders, and the logistics sector. SELIIS (Shared European Logistics Intelligent Information Space) provides a lightweight ICT structure to enable information-sharing for collaborative sustainable logistics at strategic and operational levels. Linking with participants' existing systems through a secure infrastructure, connections provide a communication and navigation platform for Pan European logistics applications.

This panel is facilitated and supported by CLECAT.

13:30 – 14:10

Preserving Freight and Saving Lives: the increasing need for cargo integrity in the supply chain

Cargo Integrity is the safe, secure and environmentally sound packing, handling and transport of all goods in containers and other transport units, across all modes and in compliance with internationally recognised conventions and codes of practice. A discussion focused on the primary concern of mis-declared dangerous goods.

14:20 – 17:45

Belt & Road Initiative Forum

A high level and insightful panel on new developments within China's Belt and Road Initiative. This forum will provide insights into new developments with One Belt One Road with regards to logistics, technology, new routes, expansion and shipper feedback. Featuring speakers from existing routes giving feedback on what is working, plus speakers from new routes, this forum will provide an opportunity to learn first-hand about progress so far and the strategies and technologies being adopted within the initiative.
